Dear Neighbor,

We wanted to let you know about an exciting new addition to the Upper Market Street business community at 227 Church Street, nearby the intersection with Market Street. At these times of uncertainty, when many small businesses are closing their doors, we are hopeful and excited to begin bringing back life to Church Street, with an emphasis on restoring some of the original character defining architectural features of the building. We hope your community will benefit from a local business that provides Iyengar, Ashtanga and Prenatal Yoga teachings of the highest quality. Among its expert staff are instructors who gained their expertise over countless apprenticeship trips to India and wish to bring these teachings to San Francisco.

The proposed project intends to bring back historic character of the building, by restoring the existing facade with a multi-light arched window (previously concealed), as well as architectural detailing prevalent throughout the early years of the building. The project will enhance the neighborhood and community through environmentally sensitive architecture and yoga practice teachings of highest quality.

We wanted to be the first ones to introduce the future development to the Neighborhood and sincerely hope for your support. To learn more about the project, please join us for a virtual Meet and Greet that will take place on:

15 JUNE, 2020 AT 6:00 PM.
